CHRISTMAS BALL

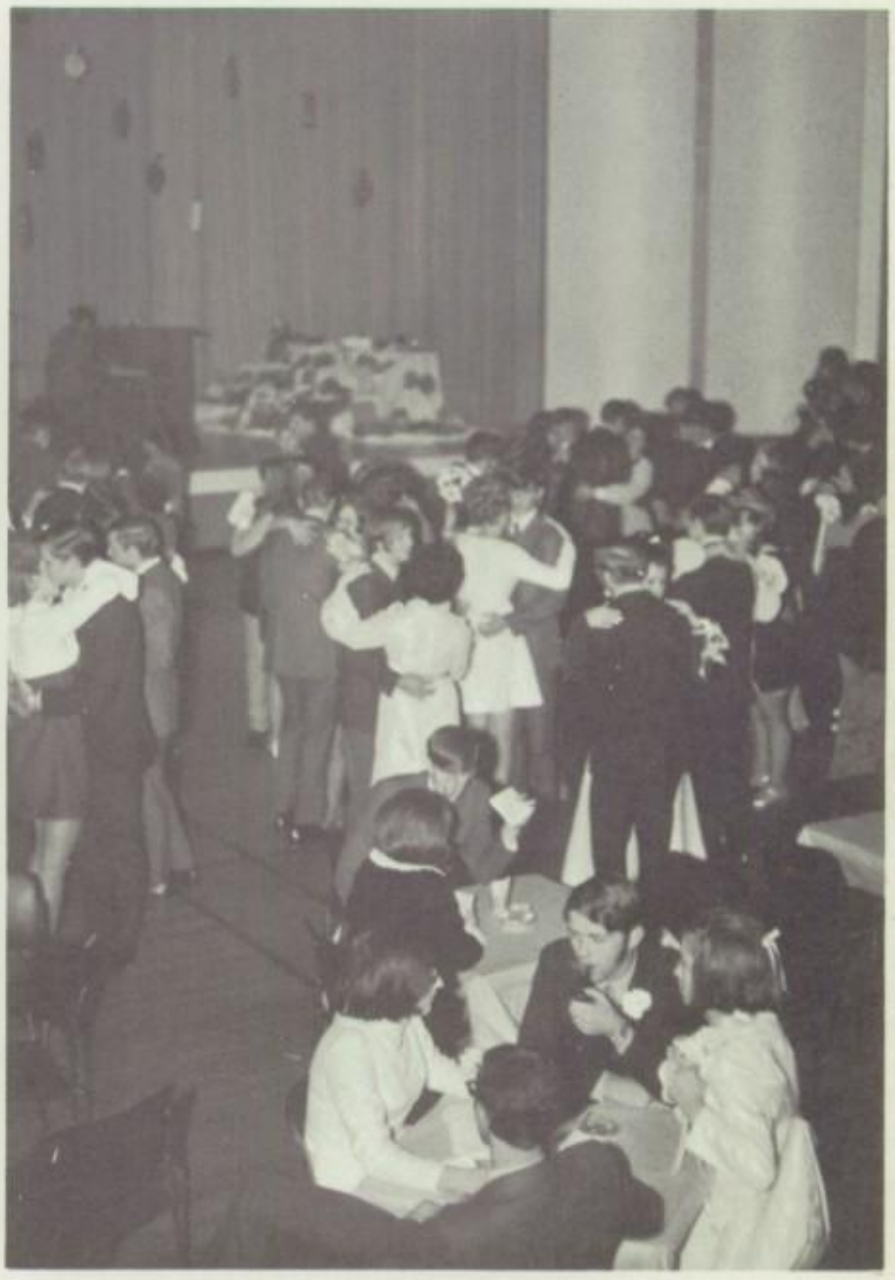
DELIGHTS GUESTS

The Dave Lang trio provided entertainment for the couples.

Lumen's auditorium, transformed into the old city of Nuremburg, welcomed sophomores, juniors, seniors, and alumni to the fourth annual Christmas Ball. December 27 brought an enjoyable evening of old-fashioned enchantment. Guests danced to the music of the Dave Lang Trio as the evening proved to be one of the most exciting events of the year. Sunrise, sunset. Another winter day had gone by, lost forever. But the memories of that evening would be remembered often by couples present.

Couples danced and conversed at decor-tables.

Didn't shoes come with the outfit, Judy?



HOMECOMING 1970

ABOVE: The Senior's First Place float . . . "War and Peace"

"No Evil Lasts Forever" was the idea brought out in the Sophomore's float that took second place.

In their float, the juniors emphasized "Brotherhood".

The freshman class elaborated on "Peace" through this memorial.

Sunrise on January 16, found us full of restless anticipation. It was a day on which to share good times with friends. During the afternoon, the senior "Scrubs" played against the sophomore "Little Rascals" in volleyball, as the spirit-filled auditorium came alive with deafening cheers and hearty applause. After capturing the school championship, the seniors then went on to take first place in the float competition for the third straight year. The sophomore float followed close behind as the first runner-up. This year, the theme was "The Sixties."

At sunset, the following day, Lumen's gym again vibrated with a pulsating beat, only this time it was to the sound of The Showcase. The introduction of the court and then the traditional dance finished the exciting two days of homecoming that will be remembered as one of the best in Lumen's history.

"The SCRUBS" and "The LITTLE RASCALS" just before the big game.

PENNY PRINCESS

This year's annual Penny Princess Drive proved to be one of the most spirit-filled campaigns at Lumen. During the week of October 16, one girl was chosen from each class as candidate and soon afterwards, the race was on. Students began collecting pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters, and even dollar bills in hopes that their contributions would put their representative on top.

At sunset, at the Publications Dance on October 30, senior Pat Adler was announced as the 1970 Penny Princess. Sponsored by the Student Council, this campaign truly brought out the spirited sunshine in all of us.

THE CANDIDATES: Junior Cindy Vallejo, Sophomore Gail Wilkes, Senior Pat Adler, and Freshman Roberta Uggucini.

WHO DO WE APPRECIATE . . .?

. . . our faculty! And we showed it in many ways. An auditorium of cheering students . . . carnations presented by Student Council . . . a luscious steak dinner . . . and girls assigned to take on the tasks of a teacher's busy day. These were only some of the sights and sounds of the Fourth Annual Faculty Appreciation Day. Presented by Student Council, this special day is set aside to show each faculty member our gratitude for all they have given us.

To thank them . . .

No wonder the teachers at the other end of the table couldn't find any waitresses.

"And then I said . . . "

WELCOME FRESHMEN '73

Lumen warmth: A big sister

Diane Hanzel receives the candle to light for her little sister.

Lumen's sixth class of freshmen entered anxious, excited, and a little scared. Big sisters were then provided to lend a helping hand. The formal induction ceremony welcomed the frosh on Friday, October 3, 1969. Each junior presented her little sister with a lit candle representing Lumen's spirit and guiding light. The following week initiation met them with costumes, old boots, and bulky shoes. That night, as the sun set, each new freshman know what it felt like to belong.

Initiation proved to be one of the more joyous (?) times for the freshmen.

Ring day, one of the most important dreams in the life of a junior, became reality on November 22, 1969. The Class of '71 received their long-awaited momentos at a mass especially for them. After walking through the large ring on stage, Father Gonsor handed them their own ring that stood for accomplishment and the knowledge that each junior made up a very important part of Lumen.

LEADERS, HOME EC SPONSOR

POSTURE QUEEN, STYLE SHOW

Dazzling fashion galore and correct posture were brought together on stage April 17 as the Fourth Annual Fashion Show and Posture Queen Contest were presented. A various assortment of clothing was modeled by the girls in sewing classes. In the Posture Queen competition, nineteen girls vied for the coveted crown of Queen 1970. After each girl performed a short routine, the winners were finally announced: honorable mention, Vicki Escobar; first runner-up, Nancy Caspio; and the 1970 Posture Queen title was presented to freshman Lynn Spisak.

STUDENT COUNCIL

"Saint Nicks'" Barb Lawson and Mary Ondi try to decide who merits candy and who merits lumps of coal.

Acting as mediator between faculty and the student body, 1969-70 Student Council displayed qualities of leadership and co-operation. Sponsoring dances and discussing problems in the school at meetings became monthly chores of the Council. Additional projects included playing St. Nick by learving candy in saddle shoes left outside lockers, conducting a leadership workshop in January, Faculty Appreciation Day in April, and May Crowning. Lumen's gym was transformed into a circus with Council's largest project—the Easter Benefit.

FUTURE CLUBS

Future Nurses concentrated much effort throughout the year collecting eyeglasses for the needy, sheets for cancer patients, sewing emergency sets for the Red Cross, and making Easter party favors for Red Cross agencies. To the right are FNA officers Denise Kresevic, secretary; Mary Lynn Perney, president; and Carol Synecky, vice-president.

Future Teachers of America became, for the first time, a member of the national organization. The year was spent earning points toward pins. Based on the honor system, members earned points by helping teachers after school hours or by tutoring. Representatives of the teaching profession spoke at each meeting.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

NHS has become a recognized organization at Lumen this year. As an added service the Society began a math tutoring program. In December it sponsored a "Fellowship Day" for area high schools. Guest speaker was Mr. Czekalinski, an English teacher at Benedictine. He was so popular that he was asked back again to speak at Induction.

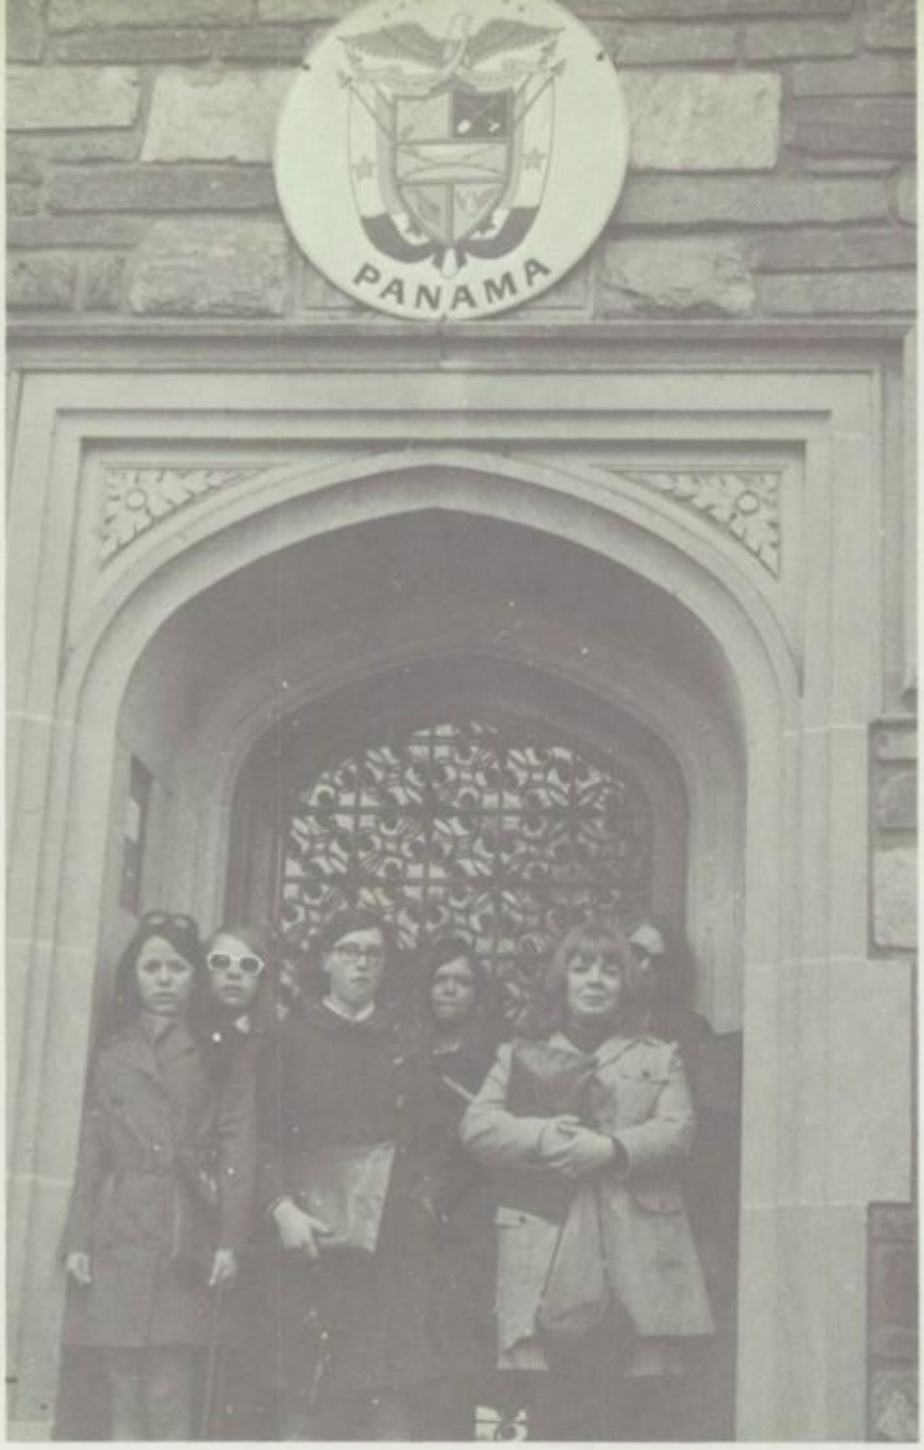
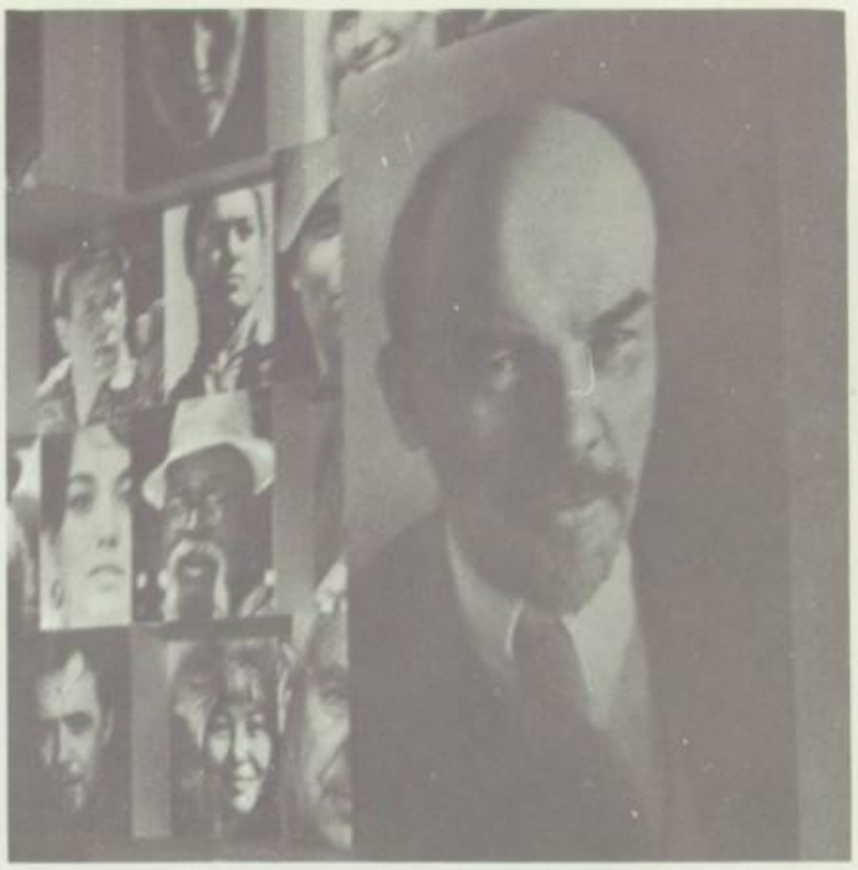
JCWA





Junior Council on World Affairs participated in mock U.N. assemblies at both Gannon College, Pennsylvania, and Washington, D. C. Representing Panama and Guatemala involved many preparations, including South American bloc meetings at which members drafted bills to be presented and planned their strategy. 1969-1970 J.C.W.A. sponsored paper drives to defray costs of the trips. President of J.C.W.A. was Karen Klafczynski; vice-president, Linda Golubski; secretaries, Monica Cordek and Roseann Fekete; and treasurer, Mary Lou Klafczynski.

Is this what the United Nations is really like?

Claudia Borden, Donna Mikolajski, Linda Weiss, and Kris Schmidt plan an exciting layout for the Christmas edition.

THE SILVER RAY

This year a journalism class aided in the publication of the SILVER RAY. More issues and new ideas resulted in a wider variety of articles and a more interesting medium for the student body. Added were the Christmas creative arts insert and the Graduation insert. Editor Linda Golubski received honorable mention for her photograph for the United Appeal Campaign.

"Miss Cunningham, that's my article you're laughing at," protests editor Linda Golubski.

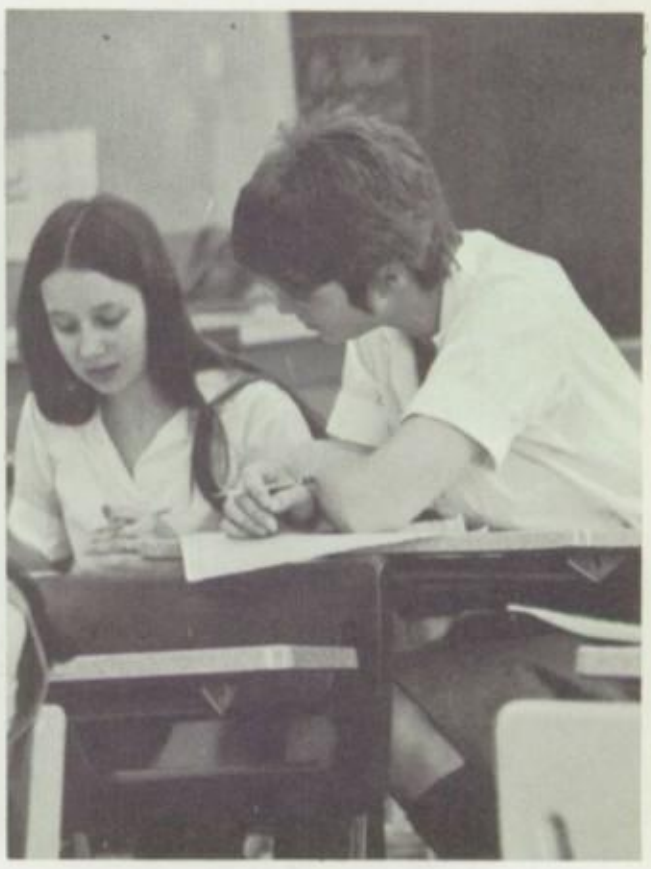
Page editors Maureen Finnerty, Joan Gestl, Carol Szczepanik, Roseann Fekete, and Paula Nowicki, caught in the act of relaxing.

At gunpoint, Mrs. Gauntner surrenders to the wishes of the Big Three, photography editor Mary Lynn Perney, business manager Claudia Borden, and editor-in-chief Judy Burichin.

"Does Pat Adler always type without paper?" wonders Kathy Matty as Mary Beth Lisy, Jolly Burant, and Joan Gestl look on.

L'Esprit '70, to those of us who worked on it, was a project to jointly capture the highlights of the '69-'70 school year along with the everyday events. Headaches, frustrations, and constant rushing came to mean "Yearbook". But matched with these came laughter, clowning around, and great satisfaction. Soon enough we learned to fear the words headline, whitespace, negatives, proofs, layouts, and cropping. Anyone of us can tell you how a sunset looks from room 202.

"Would somebody close that curtain?" mutters Joyce Rosinski to Mary Lou Klafczynski, Pat Maly, Dolores Nowack, Maura Sliwinski, and Mary Rita Weschler.



"I'm sorry Jolly, but you're going to have to do these six layouts all over again," informs Judy Burichin.

LATIN CLUB

On April 21, 1970 the Latin Club elaborately celebrated the founding of Rome by Romulus and Remus 2723 years ago. Besides the traditional Roman foods, several Latin Club members sang. Others performed a cutting from "Pyrimus and Thisbe."

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club's main project for the school year was the annual Spanish Banquet held on April 22. On the morning of the banquet senior Spanish students prepared the meal of chicken and rice, enchiladas, marinated herring, other garnishes, and pastry for the invited guests, the faculty. Junior club members sang "Guantanamera" and other Spanish selections. To finance the dinner the Spanish classes held raffles.

"Love those language banquets," says Mrs. Hermann.

Too many cooks spoil the enchilada.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club organized a banquet in December for all French students. The dinner, prepared by the students, took place in the cafeteria after school. Crepe Suzettes, duck and cheese fondues, and punch were among the delicacies served. Dessert consisted of chocolate mousse and boushe de Noel, a Christmas log cake. As entertainment, members performed skits in complete French.

What proof did you say that punch was?

Joan Szilagyi and Pat Pesek experiment with Mary Miller's brother's fondue pot.

Freshmen Joanne Gura and Donna Obremski seem to enjoy their first "taste" of high school living.

CHORUS

Under the direction of Mary Francis Xavier, Lumen's chorus spread the joy of their songs throughout the city. The Yuletide season brought Christmas caroling at Public Square and a concert with Chanel's Glee Club at Lumen. Karla Domski and Margaret Ross performed solos – Karla "Mary Had a Baby" and Margaret "Christmas is Meant for Children." The Senior Quartet, composed of Karla Domski, Rita Fondale, Barb Mindzora, and Debbie Subak, sang "The Christmas Song."

At National Honor Induction in February, part of the chorus added to the solemnity of the moment with three selections. In May, they performed at the annual Bedford area high school National Honor dinner.

The GAA officers (top to bottom): President Daneen Kozma, Vice-President Barb Pangrac, Secretary Renai Basta, and Treasurer Lynn Budnick.

Again this year, GAA under the supervision of Sister Mary Theresine and Mrs. Audrey Herrmann, offered eight sports: volleyball, basketball, softball, bowling, skiing, swimming, tennis, and ping-pong, for LC athletic enthusiasts. Homecoming festivities highlighted the sports calendar.

"Now if I can only make it to the T-bar," exclaims Karen Phillips.

BRANDYWINE SNOWS LUMEN SKIERS

The slopes of Brandywine Ski Resort came alive from December through February, when approximately 45 Lumen girls made their way to the snow-covered hills.

Although most girls were new at this sport, a few knew the skilled techniques of the christie and the slalom. Even for the broken-legged observers, watching a graceful form against a sunset is something not to be missed.

What goes up, must come down. Huh, Sue?

Cindy Vallejo seems to be enjoying herself despite a cold nose.

Struggling with heavy shoes and boots is only half the fun!

VOLLEYBALL

Volleyball, sponsored by GAA, turned out to be one of the most active and enjoyable sports at Lumen. In intramural competition, 18 teams battled it out, each trying for the top-notch position in their division. Linda Swidarski's senior team and Lynn Budnick's sophomore team played off at homecoming, the seniors capturing the championship title by scoring 15-13 and 17-15 victories.

In interschool play, 14 of Lumen's best players were chosen for the all-star squad, to compete against other area high school's teams. High scorer was Mary Moskal, racking up a total of 23 points in four matches.

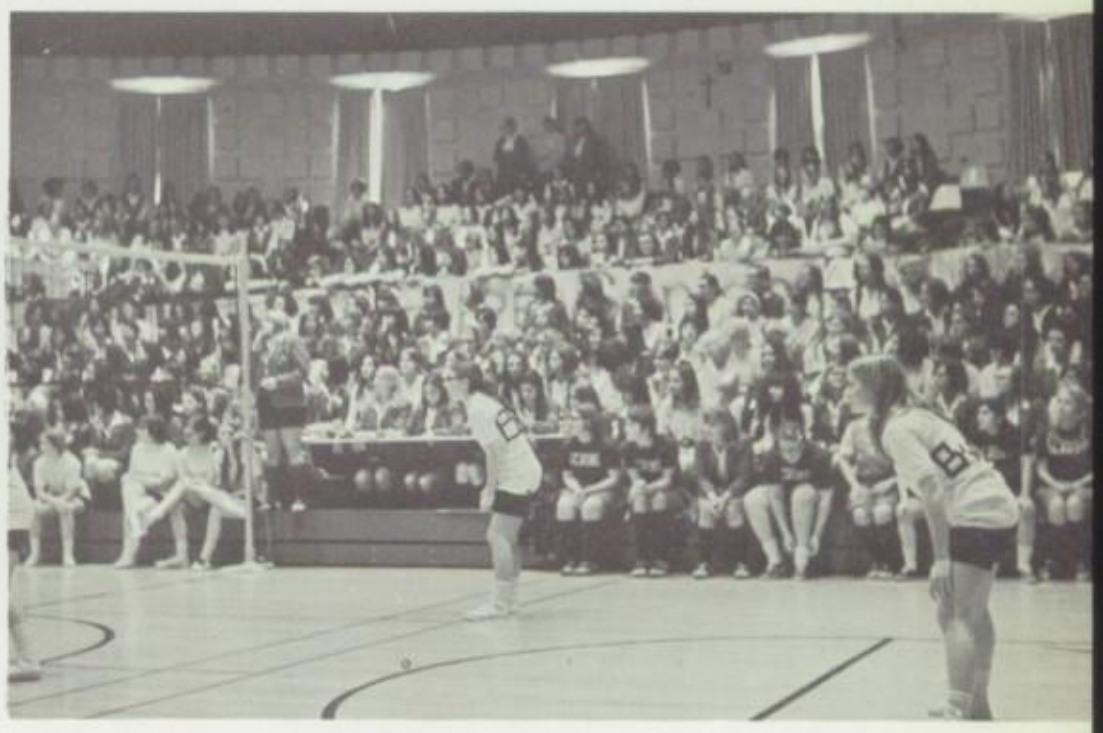
The '69-'70 School Champs: Linda Swidarski (capt.); second row: Pat Snow, Karen Klafczynski, Rita Fondale; third row: Tina Sacco, Elaine Krupa; fourth row: Judy DeStefanis, Mary Ann Gawelek, Anita Simmons.



After school, intramurals provide enjoyment and competition for those participating.

BOWLING

The 1969-70 Championship Team: Marguerite Winslow, Maureen Keough, Linda Greycar, Kathy Bodnarik, and Captain Pat Bodnarik

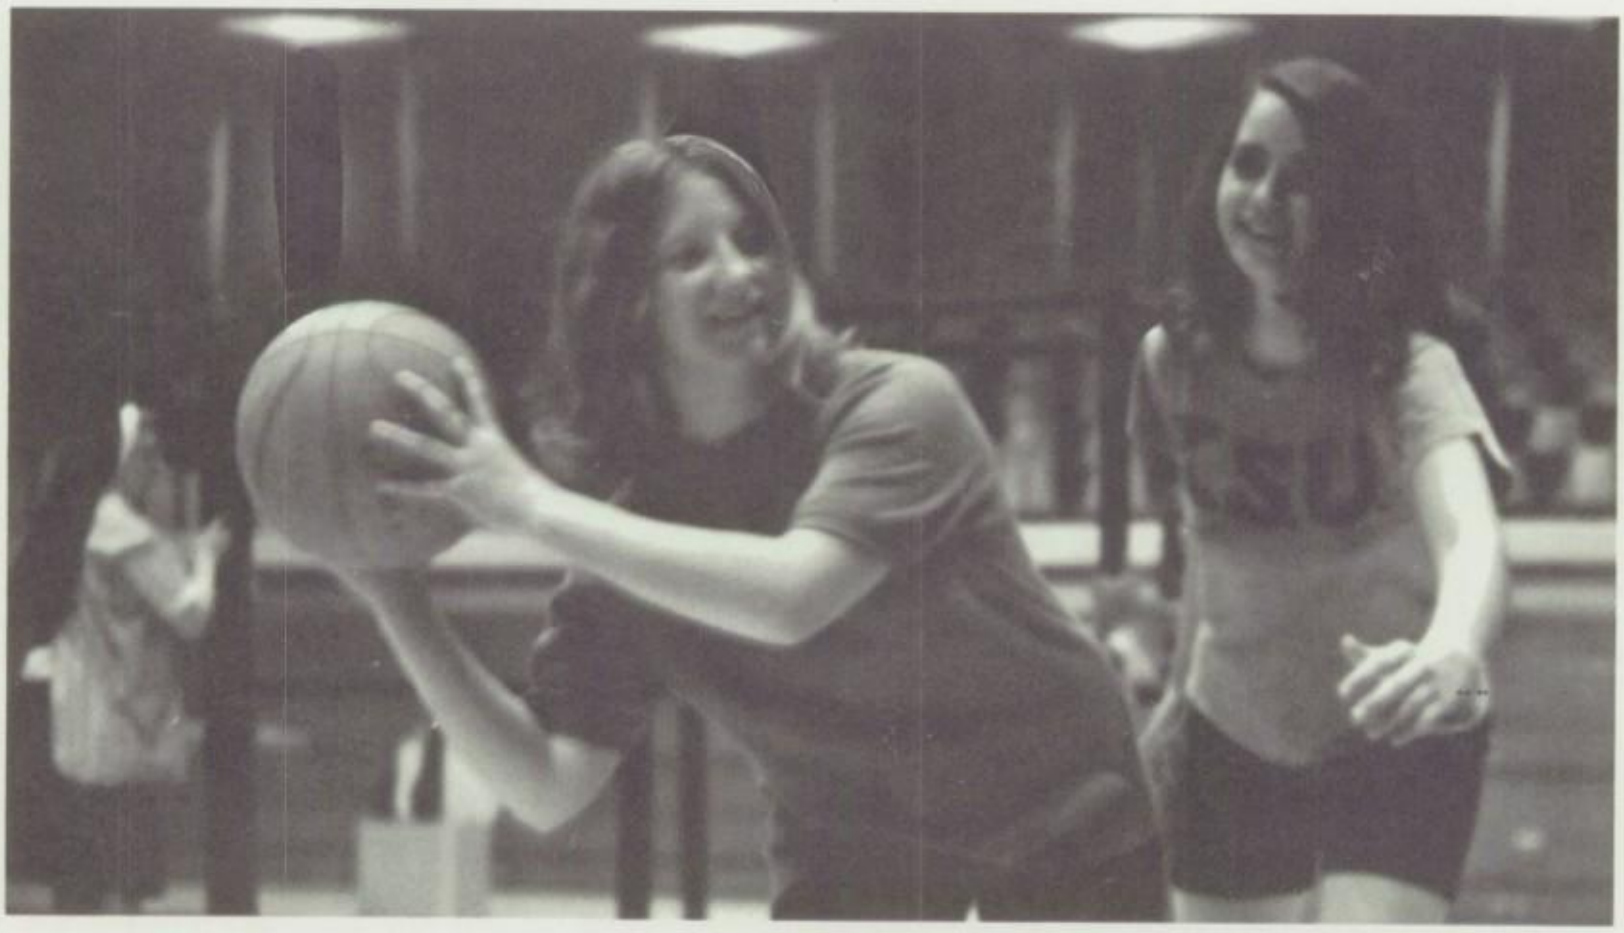
From September to March, Lumen girls had a "ball" at Ambassador Lanes in Bedford. Competition was fierce as each team battled for the coveted title of "champs". But individual efforts also paid off as three keglers were awarded for their outstanding achievement. Jolly Burant bowled a high series of 345, Mary Lou Murray finished with a high average of 151, and Terry Bartolic bowled a high game of 209. Pat Bodnarik's team came out on top after defeating Ann Pajek's freshman team.

Carol Ujczo contemplates when she should let go.

BASKETBALL

Basketball proved to be one of the best-liked indoor sports this year. On the varsity level, Lumen trounced Bedford, Hoban, Byzantine and Chamberlain. The almost-entirely underclassman team ended the inter-school schedule with a 6-0 record.

Intramural games attracted spectators as well as participants. In a rather anti-climactical finish to an exciting season, Mary Carol Patton's freshman team copped the championship by forfeit.



No, no, Cheryl. You go after the ball that Rhonda's holding—not the camera.

TRACK

Karen McDonnell demonstrates the perfect form that helped her to place second in the shotput competition at the Cleveland Diocesan Meet.

Marguerite Donatelli and Debbie Ernst, members of the relay team, pass the baton.

Two fourth-place finishes in major Cleveland area meets highlighted this year's track season. In the Cleveland Board of Women Officials' Meet, Barb Tomcko placed first in the 880 and Karen McDonnell placed third in shotput. The Cleveland Diocesan meet saw Lynn Budnick finish fourth in the hurdles and in the 220 Barb Tomcko took second place and Debbie Ernst, third. Our fourth place relay team, along with the other winners, proved that "practice DOES pay off!"

SPORTS BANQUET

GAA president Daneen Kozma presents Marguerite Winslow with a bowling trophy awarded to all members of the championship team.

Mrs. Zak, a member of the Kent State University Athletic Department, was guest speaker at the affair.

Lumen's best in the sport's world were commended for their efforts at the second annual GAA sports banquet held on May 26 in the cafeteria. The manager of each sport presented awards to outstanding team members. Softball, bowling, volleyball, basketball, track, and skiing were represented. Lynn Budnick was named outstanding player in volleyball and Mary Moskal was sighted for excellence in basketball. The top award of "Athlete of the Year" was also presented to Mary.

The championship and all-star teams received gold pins and certificates. Those girls reaching 175 points were awarded the red and grey patches, and varsity letters were also presented. Mrs. Zak, the guest speaker, gave an interesting and informative talk to close the evening.

AND BEHIND THE SCENES . . .

"More hamburgers?" asks Mrs. Babyak of Mrs. Dinallo and Mrs. Zidones.

Much hard work behind the scenes goes into Lumen. The kitchen staff devotes several morning hours to meal preparation. Mrs. Locastro, Sister Veronica (not pictured), and Mrs. Zodonis assist part time.

Meanwhile the maintenance staff polishes the school to a sparkling luster and keeps it in functional order. Agnes Blocher (not pictured) lends a helping hand part time.

"Let's get busy on the snow plow," says Richard Sugalski to Walter Strauss.

The Sophomore year – a feeling of relief . . . now you relax from a hectic Freshman year and enjoy your new prestige . . . A year of triumph . . . Initiation Day arrives and YOU are the nasty Initiator this time (ah, the Taste of Sweet Revenge!) . . . Your first time at the Christmas Ball . . . a thrilling Homecoming Day – being first runner-up in the float competition more than made up for losing the game . . . And a year of fresh Hope . . . You look to the future with growing anticipation.

CLUBS AND ACTIVITIES—12 SPORTS—40 FACULTY—50

I don't remember growing older
when did they?
wasn't it yesterday
when we were small?

Sunrise, Sunset

They climbed the rafters and scrubbed out an old barn in which they held a successful rummage sale, earning a profit of $380.

They cooked and served a Ring Day dinner for the juniors, creating havoc in the kitchen.

Ninety-nine of them, along with eight chaperones, clamored into New York City on three buses and left their mark on the Dixie Hotel. They shopped at Tiffany's and visited a throbbing Greenwich Village cafe, The Cafe Wha. They attended the Broadway musical, "Promises, Promises" and dined at the new, luxurious Fonda del Sol.

Dressed in formal attire, they spent one, last, memory-filled evening in the Gold Room of the Sheraton-Cleveland Hotel, dining on prime rib of beef and baked alaska, and dancing to the music of Hal Lynn.

And, finally, as a climax to their last year, they graduated, bidding their formal good-byes to Lumen Cordium on June 7, 1970, in the bright sun of Our Lady of Levocha Shrine.

And through all this, they learned. They laughed and cried over homework assignments and tests, and their teachers often joined them. Eighteen of them won scholarships or grants to various universities.

The Class of 1970 did all this, and they did it with a pride and a joy which belonged only to them.

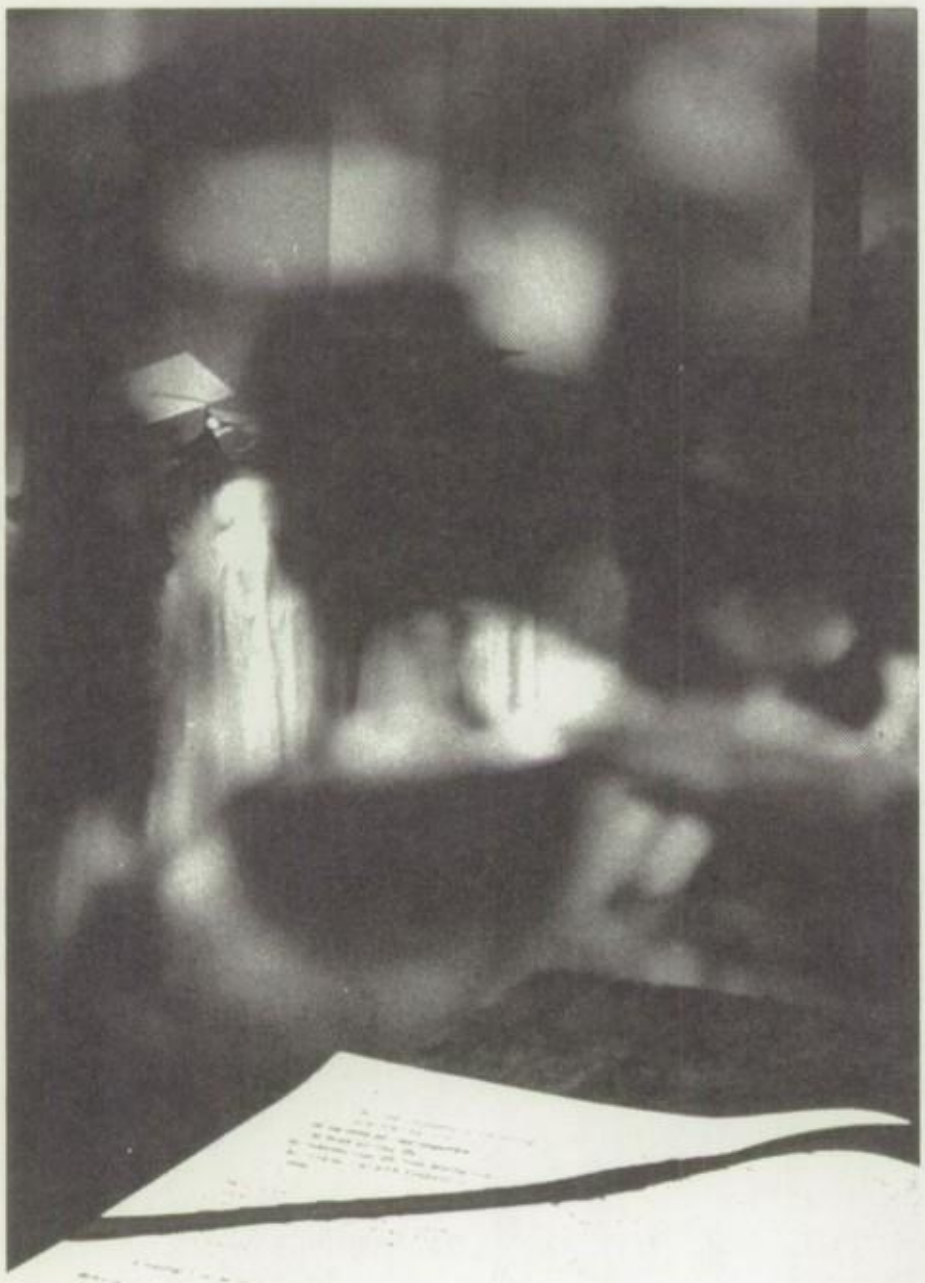
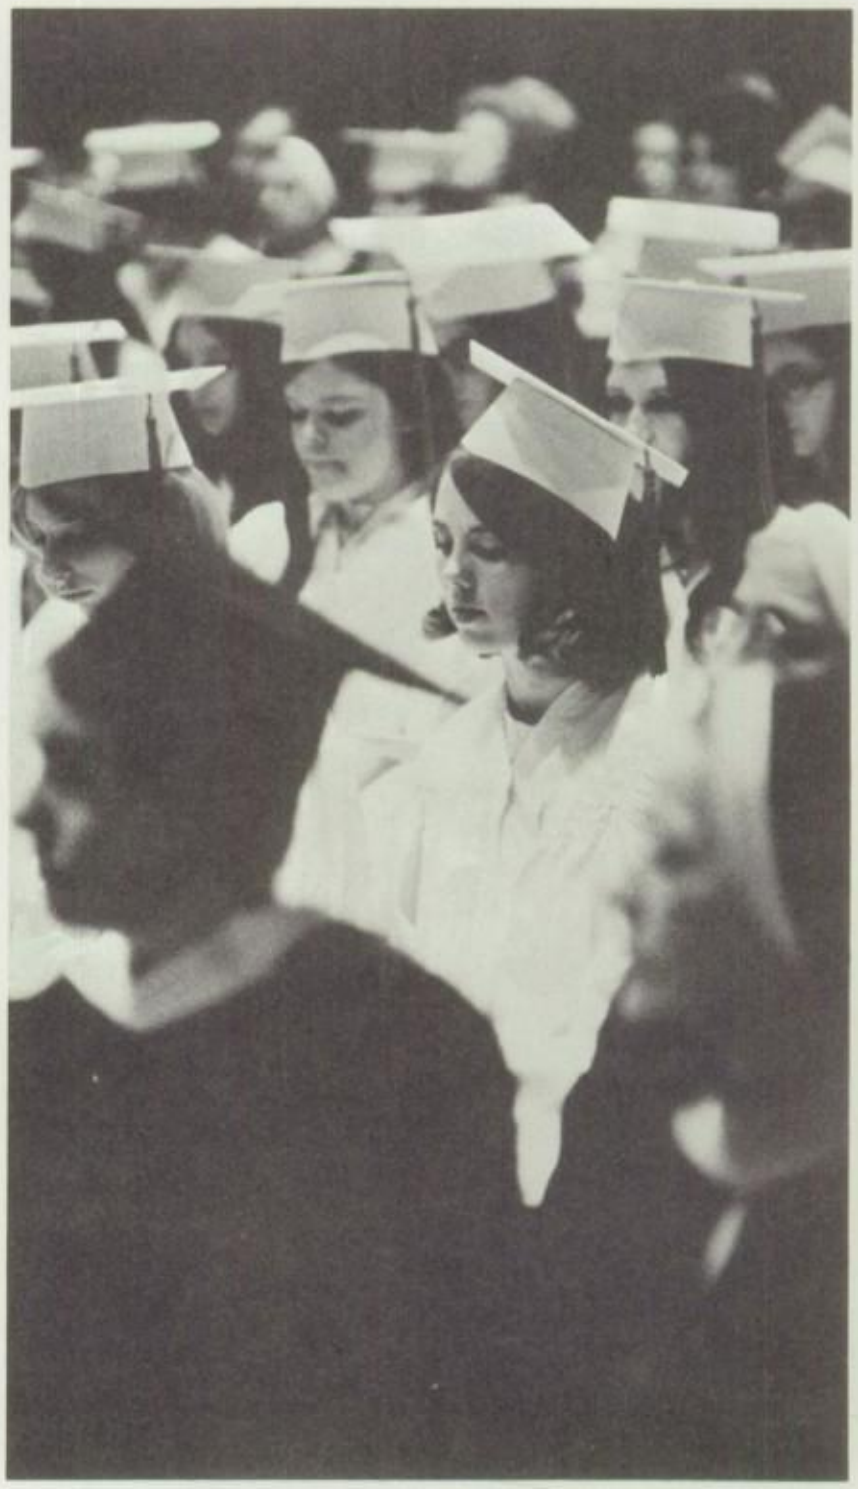
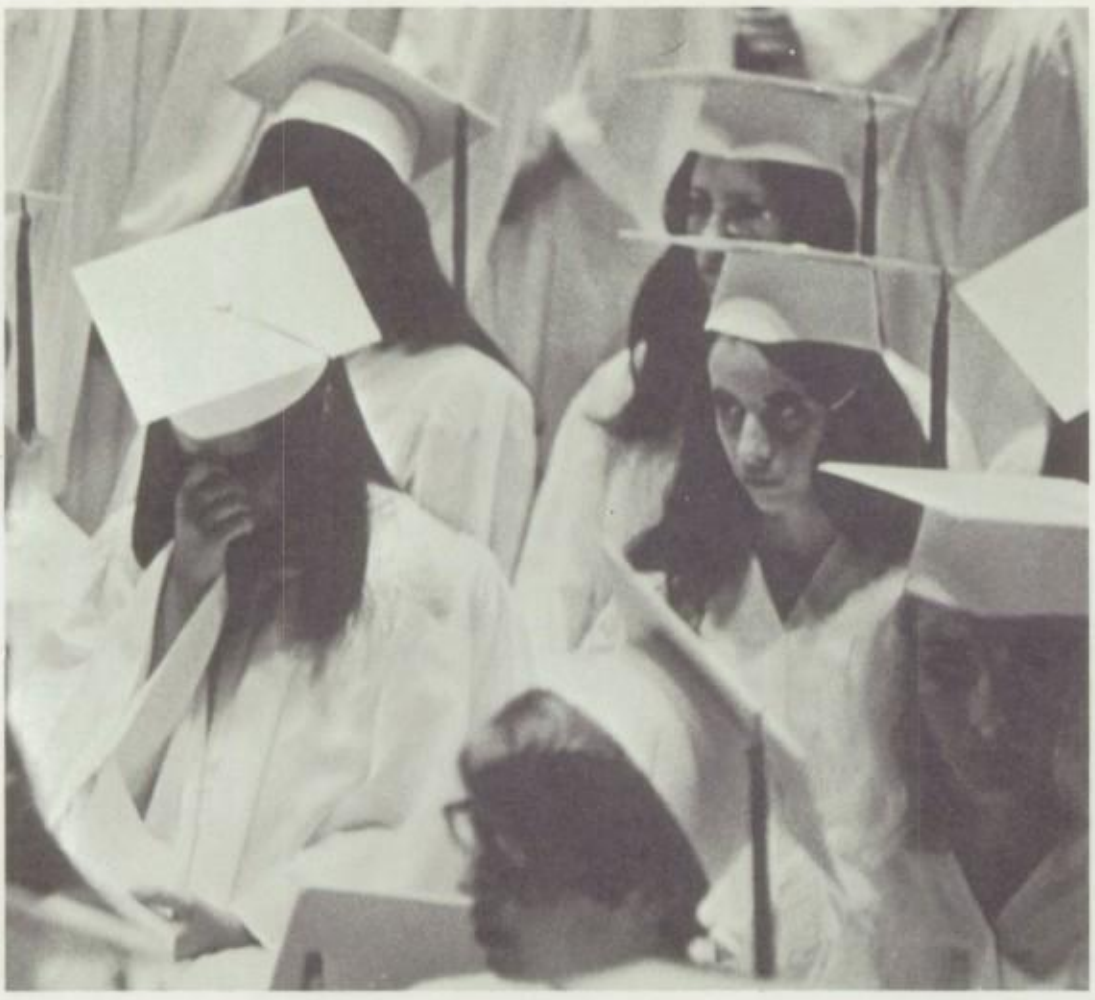
WHEN DID HE GROW TO BE THIS TALL

BACCALAUREATE:

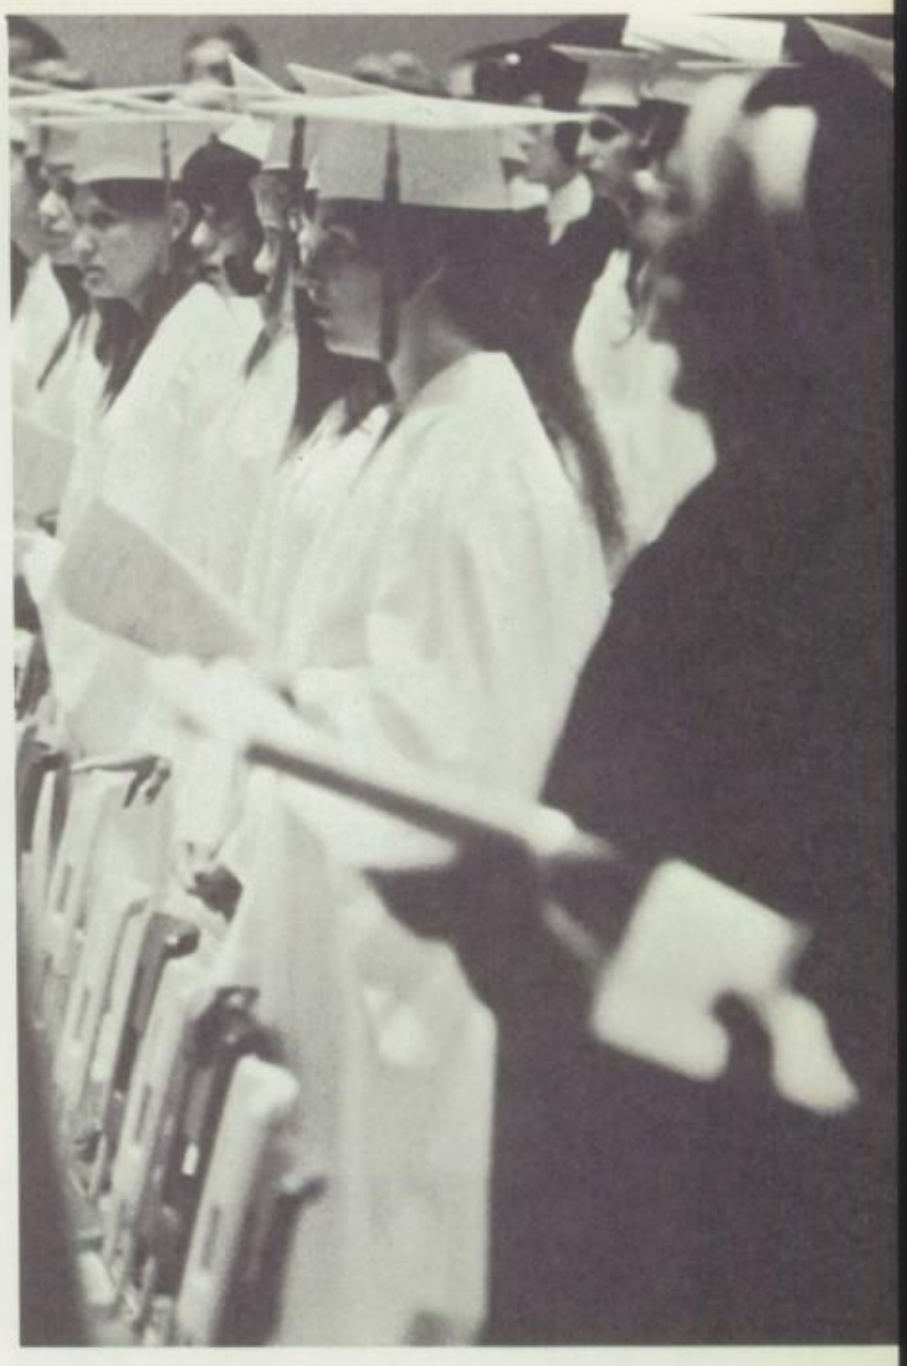




BEGINNING OF THE END



The realities of the post high school world seem to be coming upon Clare Seger.



On Friday, June 5, Father Richard Gonser offered the Baccalaureate Mass for the graduates and their families. Following the Mass, Mr. James L. Bourke, Jr. announced awards for excellence in study and scholarships as Sister Mary Vincent, principal, presented them.

THE LAST OF THE FIRSTS

141 graduates marched with solemnity and finality to Our Lady of Levocha Shrine on Sunday, June 7. Father Richard Gonser delivered an invocation. He introduced Kathy Presper, salutatorian, who greeted the graduates and observers. The voices of the graduates rang out in joyous chorus as they sang "Climb Every Mountain" and "I'll Walk With God." Kathy Matty, valedictorian, spoke for the entire class in bidding a formal farewell. Guest speaker Monsignor Basil Haren delivered a talk holding a message for both the graduates and their parents. And, finally, Mr. James Bourke presented the Class of 1970, and each girl smilingly or tearfully received her diploma from Monsignor Haren.
